HOW TO CARRY THE COASTAL HAMPTONS LOOK THROUGHOUT YOUR HOME

Nothing adds more textured depth and added character to a Coastal Hamptons home interior than incorporating some exposed white brick walling into your design. Touches of dusky pinks, gentle creams and white soft furnishings combined with blonde wood textures and seagrass sisal flooring rugs brings the look together.

So you've already built your interior walls but still want the brick Coastal Hamptons look? Never fear. Most solid interior walls can have a Brick Facing (a thin front face of the brick applied to the wall like a tile and then mortared in) applied over the wall surface, giving a blank wall a face lift and achieving the same brick look and feel as if it was an actual full brick wall.

GET THE LOOK

Light, bright and relaxed with a sophisticated beachy vibe, the Coastal Hamptons interior is timeless, simple and surprisingly easy to live with.

THE COLOURS

Team white walls with architraves, panelling – which will add texture – and window frames painted in a cooler white or complimentary pale accent colour.

Kitchen and bathroom cabinetry is also predominantly white, usually teamed with marble or light engineered stone benchtops and subway tiles.

Accent colours inspired by the ocean, sky and nature are an integral part of this look, add soft furnishings in dusty blues and sea greens or navy tones and soft greys.

THE MATERIALS

Natural materials such as timber, brick and stone are key. Pale or whitewashed timber floors are often softened with sisal, jute or wool rugs in natural tones.

Oversized sofas with pale linen or cotton drill slipcovers create a relaxed and practical, look while rattan adds a beachy vibe. Elsewhere, consider timber tables and chairs, bookshelves and side tables, in a variety of finishes.

THE LIGHTING

After dark, statement pendant lights – often hung over a kitchen island bench and dining table – and big, beautiful table lamps keep things bright and breezy.
